

The Shelter

Talk about it?

The Shelter

For younger children

Imagine this house is the shelter. Use the rooms on one side of the house to draw the things you like, and the rooms on the other side of the house to draw the things you dislike about the shelter. Use the mailbox to share this with your mother.

For older children

Imagine this house is the shelter. Use the rooms on one side of the house to draw the things you like, and the rooms on the other side of the house to draw the things you dislike about the shelter. Use the mailbox to share this with your mother.

For women

Imagine this house is the shelter. Use the rooms on one side of the house to draw the things you like, and the rooms on the other side of the house to draw the things you dislike about the shelter. Use the mailbox to share this with your child.

For mother and child

Imagine this house is the shelter. Using different colored crayons, illustrate or describe some of the things you like about your time at the shelter in a room on the left side of the house, and some of the things you dislike in a room on the right side of the house.
